What makes me happy

At Work

- To see how all the children develop as they go through Foundations.
- To be able to help each child get ready for school.
- To see the children and their families happy within the Pre-School.

At Home

- Being around family and friends.
- Being able to help others.

How I want to be supported...

Communication is key when working as a team and I work best when there is a high level of communication and trust in the team.

I like to listen to others problems and try to help with them as well as other people helping me when I am in need of a hand.
